The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

> A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
>
> (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 8 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lindsay. The claimed axial locating member reads on keyway 38.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-7, 9, 10 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lindsay. The reference shows all of the elements of the claims but for the specific shape and configuration of the axial location member, and for the claimed shapes of the clamping abutment surfaces. On the other hand it would have been obvious to provide the device of Lindsay with these features for the purpose of more securely clamping the insert and depending on the specific application.
